Future Water Demand Poses Serious Problem

(SIXTH IN A SERIES)

Illinois is blessed with a lot of water. Bordered by the Ohio, Mississippi, and Wabash rivers and Lake Michigan, and with more than a thousand miles of streams, some might be inclined to say that we have "water, water everywhere."

But Illinois people, industry and agriculture consume a great deal of water.

Municipal water use totaled 1.73 billion gallons per day in 1965 and is expected to increase to 2.65 billion gallons per day by 1980 and to 3.7 billion gallons per day in 2020.

Meanwhile, rural water use, exclusive of irrigation, is expected to increase from 0.11 billion gallons per day in 1965 to 0.13 in 1980 to 0.18 in 2020.

At the same time, cooling processes in steam power generating plants in Illinois consumed 13.0 billion gallons per day in 1965 and as industry increases, may rise as high as 31.1 billion gallons per day in 1980 and up to 162.8 in 2020.

These tremendous demands on our water supply do not include use of water for irrigation—a demand which in itself could virtually use up all of our water. If our population grows at such high rates that it becomes national policy to let out all the stops on increasing crop production, this one factor would have the largest conceivable impact on our water supply.

When considering these increasing demands for water, it is important to remember that our water supply is a constant, limited resource. We have the same amount of water available now, in one form or another, as was available to our ancestors thousands of years ago.

All of our water originates as some form of precipitation and then returns to the atmosphere by evaporation and transpiration—only to fall again as precipitation in an endless cycle. We have some droughts and some unusually wet seasons, but things tend to balance out over time.

William C. Ackermann, Chief of the Illinois State Water Survey, says Illinois can meet her projected water demands to 2020 "with abundance" if we develop the resource by providing for water storage, re-use, and transportation. Since water is not equally available in all parts of the state, the problem will be to deliver water when and where it is needed.

The Water Plan for Illinois calls for a number of specific steps which must be taken now to assure efficient water management:

1. Store flood runoff for use during periods of low streamflow and drought and for transfer to deficient areas. More than 800 potential reservoir sites have been studied with this purpose in mind.

2. The State should investigate means of establishing interconnected water systems throughout Illinois. A related goal will be to bring centrally-supplied water to all the people of Illinois, where practical. Central systems, similar to those for rural electrification, would supply water to farms, rural residents and industries. This would do much to insure safe, dependable supplies to all non-urban residents.

3. Every effort should be made to direct substantial new uses for water into locations where large supplies exist.

4. Universal metering of all municipal and industrial uses is desirable to reduce waste and serve as a basis for intelligent management.

5. Where needed, loans should be offered to municipalities for construction of water supply fa-

Maxwell Street Days To Start Today In Antioch

Thieves Rob & Burn Flo's Beauty Shop

Flo's Beauty Shop at the corner of Rt. 59 and Grass Lake Road is a shambles of burned rubble and broken glass, thanks to the work of two men who broke into the shop early Wednesday morning.

Flo Heiselmann, owner of the shop, reported that two men had broken into the beauty shop in the early morning hours. They took some coins from the cash register and some merchandise was stolen.

A fire was started in the back room of the beauty shop and the Antioch Fire Department was called to the scene around 3:30 a.m. by the sheriff's police. It took the firemen about an hour to completely extinguish the blaze. Fire Chief Todd Mapelthorpe theorized that the fire was probably started to cover up the robbery.

The sheriff had been called to the scene by a witness who had seen the men attempt to break into the coke machine at the Phillips 66 Gas station on the corner. A car was parked across the street from the station, and when the sheriff arrived, one man was found lying in the back seat of the car, and the other one lying underneath the car. The men were placed in sheriff's custody. Items taken from the beauty shop were in the car.

There is going to be free movies for the kiddies.

There is going to be bargains galore for the thousands of shoppers flooding into the area.

The reason is the 10th annual Maxwell Street Days which begin today (Thursday) and will continue through Saturday.

Merchants will literally move their merchandise onto the sidewalk and display it for the shoppers who will move up and down streets looking for bargains.

And bargains they will get. For this is the yearly clearance sale being offered by merchants who are getting ready to put in the fall fashions.

Mom and Dad can get in a good deal of shopping without the kids, because the Antioch Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a free babysitter—the Antioch Theatre.

On both Thursday and Friday, at 2 p.m., there will be a free children's matinee.

Ninety minutes of cartoons will be featured to keep the youngsters occupied while the parents (Continued on page three)

Remarks:—We have not had any rain to speak of since that down pour of Tuesday the 23rd of 2.58". In checking the records this is not uncommon for Antioch in July. In 1964 on the 18th we had 3.00", in '63 on the 19th we had 2.63", in '62 we had 2.28" on the 2nd. Other years in the '60's we had an inch and a half or better in one day.

Temperatures averaged two to four degrees below normal in our area for last week, but as of this report our average high for the month is 83°, which is normal. At 5:30 a.m. Wed. morning, before this report was turned in, we were getting some rain, but this should move out and leave us with a nice weekend and have a good day for the "Lions Chicken Barbecue."

No Solution

The political football is being batted around these days as convention time draws near, but there is one thing that puzzles us.

We haven't yet heard a solution to the Vietnam War from any of the front-runners.

All of them have said they have a program for solving that action—but, nothing has been forthcoming.

Maybe there isn't a solution although John Q. Public can probably tell the powers that be, one.

The one that the public puts forth is either fight the war to win it or bring the boys back home.

When all the wordage is stripped away from the candidates speeches it adds up to "we will seek a solution that will bring about a cessation hostilities through a just and honorable peace."

We really don't know what that means but maybe we aren't close enough to the picture.

We just count our dead and wounded and wonder if Vietnam isn't having a civil war after all and wouldn't it be better if we let whoever wants the country have it.

Every time we go into a country the signs start popping out saying "Yankee Go Home."

We think it is a good idea.

Lets.

Stop And Frisk

Gov. Samuel S. Shapiro has on his desk stop and frisk legislation which would give the police the tool they need to cut down on crime and protect the public.

The governor hasn't signed the legislation yet, but has given every indication that he will do so.

The bill will allow the police department personnel throughout the state to halt a suspicious person on the street and search him.

Police at the present time say they know who are carrying guns but they can't do anything about it unless they see the gun.

It would seem to us that the governor would sharpen his pen and put the new measure into effect.

It also seems to us that the critics of such legislation are the ones who it would affect the most.

We are sure that the legitimate citizen would not take offense at being stopped and questioned—if the police department personnel do not use it as a tool for harrassment, instead of good law enforcement.

We heartily endorse the measure.

Your Congressman Reports.....

By Cong. Robert McClory

After debating for only an hour on the Omnibus Crime Bill including provisions prohibiting interstate and mail order sales of revolvers and pistols, the U. S. House of Representatives devoted 3 days and a total of almost 22 hours of debate on a bill which includes rifles and shotguns in such interstate mail order prohibitions.

In several respects the latest gun control measure tends to weaken existing law by (a) exempting various forms of ammunition from Federal control, (b) permitting certain movements of arms and ammunition to members of the National Rifle Association and others for marksmanship contests and other purposes, and (c) permitting interstate purchases where a gun-owner claims that his weapon is inoperative or "lost." There were a total of 80 amendments offered to the gun control bill of which 47 received House approval. After careful scrutiny, it may be that other amendments will have a further weakening effect on this federal legislation.

Two amendments offered by this Member of Congress would have strengthened the Federal legislation, namely: (1) An amendment to require the registration of handguns (pistols and revolvers) and (2) A proposal to encourage State statutes for the licensing of gun-owners.

The amendment for registration of handguns took into account the fact that most sportsmen use rifles and shotguns. These firearms were excluded from the registration requirement. The amendment was directed at revolvers and pistols, the weapons most frequently used in the commission of crimes of violence including burglaries, robberies, and homicides.

In the last 4 years sales of handguns have almost tripled, with many of these weapons reaching the hands of criminals and militant elements dedicated to violence and lawlessness.

Most citizens of the Nation, including many gun-owners, appear to favor such legislation. In addition, the principle underlying handgun registration has the backing of the International Association of Chiefs of Police as well as the Director of the Federal Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover. In refusing to adopt this amend-

AUG. 5, 1943

The Antioch News will begin its 58th year with the issue of Aug. 12, 1943.

It was founded by the late J. J. Burke and edited by Burke until 1901 when he sold it to A. B. Johnson. Johnson published the paper for 20 years, disposing of his interest to the firm of Horan, Wood and Woodhead. They later sold out to Horan who in 1926 sold the paper to H. B. Gaston, former publisher of the Richmond Gazette.

The lotus flowers of Grass Lake are in full bloom these days. No one has ever solved the mystery of how the famed flower of the Nile happens to be growing in this little lake in Northern Illinois. It is found in one other spot in the United States in New York State.

Floyd Horton was elected new commander of Antioch Post No. 748 of the American Legion. Earl Horton is senior vice-commander and Henry Harvey junior vice-commander. C. L. Heath is the retiring commander.

Antioch's 1943 annual village tax levy ordinance, accepted at a meeting of the village council Tuesday evening will be $95 less than the $11,730 levied in 1942.

Mrs. L. J. Tweed and her daughters, Mrs. Joe Nader and Hazel Tweed, also her granddaughter, Marlene Nader, were guests of a friend, Master at Arms Jack Sherwood at dinner last Sunday at Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Sgt. Charles W. Rudolph who has been overseas for the past 13 months and whose travels have ment, it would appear that the House of Representatives has merely delayed—and not rejected—this move.

A second amendment offered by this Member of Congress would have required State legislatures to enact gun-owner licensing statutes in accordance with Federal standards. This amendment was intended to prohibit purchases and possession of guns by (a) narcotic addicts, (b) alcoholics, (c) criminals, (d) juveniles and (e) other unfit or irresponsible persons. The amendment provided further that if States failed to act by Sept. 1, 1970, then the Federal standards would apply within those States, and gun-owners would be required to apply for licenses through Federal firearms dealers.

In refusing to support this amendment, a majority of the House of representatives appeared to act contrary to the position of most gun-owners—including members of the National Rifle Association—and also against the position of the majority gun manufacturers. In presenting this amendment to the House of Representatives, this Member called attention to a joint statement by the major gun manufacturers presented to a Senate Subcommittee. The statement expressed support for "Firearm Owners Licensing statute to prevent the ownership and possession of firearms by unfit persons such as minors, criminals, mental incompetents, narcotic addicts, and alcoholics."

Adoption of such an amendment would have encouraged all 50 States to pass gun-owner licensing statutes similar to those of the State of Illinois and of 5 or 6 other major States of the Nation. The rejection of this amendment means that individuals within all but a few States may purchase and sell firearms (other than by mail order and across State lines, notwithstanding criminal records, incompetency or other conditions of unfitness or irresponsibility).

Almost 20,000 deaths by privately owned firearms occurred in the United States last year and this record will probably be broken in 1968. The registration of handguns and the licensing of gun-owners will not end crime, and will not prevent all firearms from reaching the hands of criminals. Still, it seems certain that legislation of this type would aid our law enforcement officers in the campaign against crime and would produce greater safety for our law-abiding citizens.

It seems most likely that laws to require the licensing of gun-owners—to assure that only fit and responsible persons are permitted to purchase or own firearms—will be enacted soon. Indeed, the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York, has given assurance that hearings on both the subjects of gun registration and gun-owner licensing will be scheduled at an early date.

ilities from the revolving fund proposed as part of the Illinois Resource Development Fund.

In order to implement these important provisions of the Water Plan, the $1 billion bond issue for water and air resources must be passed by the voters in November. With funds to back it up, this comprehensive plan can solve not only our problems of water supply, but will provide much needed water-related recreation, flood control, and air and water pollution control.

Unless action is taken now, the growing demands on our water supply by industry and agriculture could conceivably turn Illinois from a "water, water everywhere" state, to one in which there is "... not a drop to drink."

Hospital Offers Nurse Scholarships

A scholarship program designed to help alleviate the shortage of trained nurses has been announced by Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center, Chicago.

All-expense paid three-year nursing education scholarships will be available beginning this fall, according to Morris Glasser, president of the medical center. These cover the cost of tuition, laboratory fees, a private room in the Nurses' Residence on the hospital campus, and meals. The program begins in September with classroom studies.

High school graduates with better than average grades should contact Mount Sinai's I. J. Goldberg School of Nursing immediately, Glasser said.

Waukegan Plans Observance

Brass bands and airplanes, floats and boats will be well-mixed in the two day observance of the Illinois Sesquicentennial being planned by the City of Waukegan and the Waukegan-North Chicago Chamber of Commerce for August 17th and 18th.

The city will sponsor a huge parade on Saturday, August 17th, starting at 11:00 a.m. while the Chamber's Harbor and Aviation Committee will take over with a lakefront water show and Venetian Night Parade of Bots on Saturday and the air show at the Waukegan Memorial Airport Sunday, August 18th.

The program of acrobatic flying, sky-diving and parachute jumping will be presented by National Air Shows, one of the leading air groups in the country, according to Louis Brydges, chairman of the Harbor and Aviation Committee.

Augmenting the city-Chamber program will be a golf tournament at Bonnie Brook Golf Club, a tennis tournament and the award of prizes by the Waukegan Tennis Association at Belvidere Park; finals of the Pony League Division tournament with the winner going to the National Pony League World Series.

Other attractions during the weekend will be the appearance of the USS Havre at the waterfront for public visitation, the arrival of scores of powerboats from the Lake Michigan Yacht Association and a special program of racing at the Waukegan Speedway.

Parade entries have been received from more than a score of organizations, according to Waukegan Alderman Fred Burgess, Parade Chairman.

Included in the list of entries are floats from the city of Woodstock; City of Zion; and the Zion-Winthrop Harbor, Beach Park Chamber of Commerce; Wheaton Police Honor Guard; Devillaires Rippling Rifle Drill Team from McHenry; Avonettes Baton Corps, Warren Wranglers 4-H Club Mounted Drill Team; the Chain O' Lakes Mounted Drill Team.

Martial music will be provided by the Waukegan Municipal Band, the 60 member Recruit Training Command Drum and Bugle Corps from Great Lakes; and the Marching Band of the Waukegan Federation of Musicians. Other band and drum and bugle corps units have also indicated they plan to participate, according to Burgess.

Entry forms and additional information on the parade can be secured by contacting the Planning Department at the Waukegan City Hall.

Burgess said other marching units and floats will be welcome in the parade.

Deadline for submitting entries is August 8, Burgess said.

Abbott Lab Earnings, Sales Up

A 10.4 per cent increase in earnings, after provision for the corporate income surtax, and an 11.6 per cent increase in sales were reported for Abbott Laboratories for the first half of calendar 1968 by Paul Gerden, Executive Vice-President, Administration, of the health-care products firm based in North Chicago. He appeared before the financial Analysts Society of Detroit.

Earnings for the first six months were $14,363,000, or $1.07 a share, compared with $13,012,000, or 97 cents a share, reported for the comparable 1967 period. If the surtax had not been passed, earnings would have been $15,512,000, or $1.16 a share, Gerden said — an improvement of approximately 19 per cent.

Second-quarter earnings were $6,873,000, or 51 cents a share, a 19.8 per cent increase over the $5,735,000, or 43 cents a share, reported for the second quarter of 1967. Without the surtax, second-quarter earnings would have been $7,423,000, or 55 cents a share. "That would have been an improvement of 29.4 per cent," Gerden explained.

He estimated that sales for the second six months of 1968 will increase about 10 per cent over a year ago. Earnings for all of 1968 should show continued improvement over the $2.10 a share earned in 1967, after allowing for the surtax, he said.

Abbott's first-half sales were $165,160,000, compared with $148,004,000 reported a year ago. Second-quarter sales were $83,044,000, a 13.2 per cent increase over sales of $73,376,000 in the second quarter of 1967.

Vandals Go Wild At Lake Villa Parks

Vandals went on a rampage in Lake Villa Wednesday night, July 24.

Their main attack was directed at the Sherwood Park Grove on Grand Avenue and the Lake Villa Village park.

Leo Keisler, manager of Sherwood Park said that he made rounds of the park between 1:30 and 2 a.m. and the vandalism was discovered the next morning.

Keisler said that all the boats had been turned over and sunk in the lake, 30 picnic tables had been turned over and 4 were badly damaged and 15 tables had been thrown into the lake. Garbage cans were emptied on the beach and throughout the park.

Boats were also swamped and turned over at the village park.

The vandals have not been apprehended.

Bible Scholars Begin Scriptures Translation

Some one hundred Bible scholars, working under sponsorship of the 158 year-old New York Bible Society, have begun a new translation of the Scriptures. It is anticipated that many more will in time be involved in the project.

The scholars, in the words of one of their number, Dr. Burton L. Goddard, "are those who have a high view of Scripture and have long felt the need of a faithful translation."

The group, working under the direction of the Committee on Bible Translation, has as its aim the provision of the Scriptures in modern English, doing for our day that which the King James Version did for its day. Every effort will be made to employ language which will communicate to the man on the street but which at the same time will be well chosen from a literary point of view. Translators will stress faithfulness to the text and the unity of the parts of Scripture. They will strive to avoid theological and ecclesiastical bias, and through cooperative effort produce a translation which will be widely accepted by the Christian public and used as a standard version in churches throughout America and many English-speaking churches abroad.

First portion of the new translation, the Gospel of John, is expected to be ready for publication next Fall. The entire New Testament may take at least three years to complete, according to Dr. Goddard. The scholars, drawn from every section of the country and from many segments of Protestant Christianity, will do their work of translation in 20 teams. Ten of the teams are already in operations. Said Dr. Goddard: "The work will not be a revision of another version, but a fresh translation from the original Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek texts. The translators will have available to them not only the old texts but such new archaeological findings as the Dead Sea scrolls and other source materials having relevancy for their work."

The project will be guided by a 15-member Committee on Bible Translation. In announcing the new translation, the committee set these guidelines:

1. At every point the translation shall be faithful to the Word of God as represented by the most accurate text of the original languages of Scripture.
2. The translation shall reflect clearly the unity and harmony of the Spirit-inspired writings.
3. The aim shall be to make the translation represent as clearly as possible only what the original says and not to inject additional elements by unwarranted paraphrasing.

4. The translation shall be designed to communicate the truth of God's revelation as effectively as possible to English readers in the language of the people to do for our own time that which the King James version did for its day.

5. It shall be suitable for use in public worship, in the study of the Word, and in devotional reading.

6. The translators will attempt to provide the Scriptures as free as possible from the individual theological biases of the translators and will solicit constructive criticism from many sources.

7. The translators will look upon their labor as a sacred trust, honoring the Bible as the inspired Word of God.

Trains To Madison On Limited Basis

The Milwaukee Road has announced that effective Monday, July 22, its VARSITY passenger trains, No. 117 and 118, running between Chicago and Madison, Wis., will be operated on a limited basis rather than daily as heretofore.

The reduced schedule calls for these trains to operate only on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Labor Day, Independence Day, Thanksgiving Day and the days immediately preceding and following these holidays, as well as the days marking the beginning and the end of semester breaks or vacation periods at the University of Wisconsin (located in Madison) and the one day immediately preceding and following such days.

This schedule of operation conforms to an Interstate Commission order in connection with the Milwaukee Road attempt to discontinue the service because of deficits resulting from action of the United States Post Office Department in withdrawing all mail traffic from the two trains.

IAA Study Calls For Revamp

Ways to streamline local government in Illinois were recommended by a special committee of the Illinois Agricultural Association following a year-long study.

Among the recommendations in the committee's 50-page report are those to permit the appointment of a county executive officer, to discontinue town meetings, to enact a new county financial code, to abolish the fee basis for compensating county officers, to prepare for local re-apportionment, and to consider merging the smaller, more inefficient counties.

Dean M. Sears, director of the IAA local government department said that the study committee's report is being forwarded to county Farm Bureaus for further consideration by Farm Bureau members. Sears emphasized that the report is in the recommendation stage and is not the official position of the IAA.

The IAA local government study was authorized by the IAA board in January, 1967. The study committee consisted of a representative from each of the 13 IAA districts, two representatives of the Farm Bureau State Women's Committee, two representatives of the Farm Bureau Young People's Committee, and members of the IAA board's legislative and public affairs committee. Vernal C. Brown, Vermont, Ill., served as chairman and Roger Carr, Avon, served as vice-chairman.

"Changes and modernization of our local government structure are needed if local governments are to meet the demands for services and survive as an effective, vital part of our governmental structure," the report stated. The committee emphasized that their recommendations may not be the complete answers, but they felt that if their recommendations were implemented it would be a giant step toward modernizing local government in Illinois.

Most Accidents Caused By Disobeying Traffic Laws

The Lake County Safety Commission says most of us will be doing more driving during the summer. Remember, that happy motoring trip, long or short, can end in the tragedy of a traffic smashup. What's the answer? Drive with care everywhere and "watch out for the other guy" in traffic.

When you drive, expect the unexpected. Be prepared to compensate for the driving errors of other drivers. Remember, says the Safety Commission, even good drivers will sometimes do foolish things which could cause an accident. The answer is to be alert behind the wheel at all times.

Let's all drive courteously and let the other driver have the right of way even when we know we can legally go first at an intersection. Courtesy pays in traffic.

Obey the traffic rules every time you drive. Traffic laws were enacted for your protection. Just imagine the confusion if all drivers disobeyed all traffic rules. Remember, in nearly every accident one or more drivers disobeyed the rules of the road.

Kids Run Carnival For Benefit of M.D.

There's a lot of good in a lot of kids!

Last year, some youngsters over on Rt. 2, near the Oakland School put on a neighborhood carnival and raised $47 for the benefit of muscular dystrophy victims.

This year, they're doing it again, putting on a bigger and better production, on the grounds of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leber, of Fox Drive, off of Deep Lake Road, north of the Oakland School.

The Carnival will begin at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 4 and will feature such games as bean bag toss, balloon burst, fish pond and others. A hot dog and refreshment stand will also be featured. Lee Anne Buchta will serve as ring master, assisted by Lance Buchta, Mike Leber, Debbie Broecker, Kevin, Kim and Brad Fox, Linda and Gary Myers and Debbie and Paula Leber.

The public is invited to attend and further information can be obtained by calling 395-3651 or 395-0045.

There is an old saying that goes something like this, "Learn to control yourself before trying to control others." In the operation of an automobile, the first rule should be self-control. Driving while irritated, tired and after drinking has been the cause of many traffic accidents.

Two-Party System Is Vital

A stable two-party political system is an effective vehicle for dissent, Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts, told the General Assembly of Premier Boys State recently at the state fairgrounds.

"Young people seeking to change the direction of American society need not join a gang, a mob, or an underground community," said Howlett. Join a political party.

The assembly is an encampment of more than 1,000 boys, 16 and 17 years old, sponsored annually by the American Legion and associated organizations to give the boys a scientific course in state government.

During the encampment, the boys organize their own model city, county and state governments, form their own legislature and introduce and argue bills and administer model public offices. The office holders are elected from candidates nominated by two parties.

"There's a lot of comment now about the generation gap," Howlett told the boys. "The news is full of stories about students taking over colleges, young men ducking off to Canada or into graduate schools just to escape the draft, trips with LSD and a new, pagan moral standard."

"As a father of six, and an office holder who meets many people, I think the wild boys and girls are a small minority. On the whole, the young people today are the best educated, the most idealistic and the most patriotic of all time."

"Your own participation in Premier Boys State is an example of conscientious preparation for active leadership in our American democratic processes."

"In your debates on model legislation, you learn the value of dissent in arriving at eventual consensus. And you learn the function of the minority in offering criticism of majority policies and in preparing alternative solutions."

"Your experience at this encampment is teaching you respect for lawful authority. There is a time and place for dissent, and it is proper and right to demonstrate in a legal manner for a legitimate cause. Dissent becomes obnoxious when it challenges law and order."

"The apathy of the older generation in our time is a more

Driving To Mexico? Get Proper Insurance

HemisFair will be the gateway to the Olympics for many people this fall. Others already are planning independent travel through Mexico, bypassing San Antonio's HemisFair.

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA cautions all U.S. drivers to be certain they have adequate Mexican insurance on their automobiles before venturing south of the border.

The laws of Mexico are based on the Napoleonic code and differ greatly from our familiar U.S. regulations. Most important, without Mexican liability insurance, a person involved in an auto accident is subject to jail and having his car impounded.

You are responsible in Mexico for a personal injury, whether or not it is your fault, under both civil and criminal law. You are considered guilty until proven innocent. However, proper coverage from a Mexican company in such a case normally will be accepted as proof of your ability to pay for damages and you will be released shortly after your company's adjuster is contacted.

If you are planning to motor in Mexico, the Chicago Motor

Club suggests you keep in mind these points:

—Carry proof of ownership of the car you are driving. If it is not your car (perhaps a rented vehicle or a company car), you must have written authority indicating approval for such use in Mexico.

—Have a valid driver's license. An international driving license is not required in Mexico; any valid U.S. license is acceptable in Mexico.

—Obtain a tourist card from an office of the Mexico Bureau of Tourism or the Mexican consul.

—Give serious concern to your automobile insurance needs. The territorial scope of most United States automobile policies does not extend coverage throughout the Republic of Mexico. Mexico recognizes only insurance issued by Mexican insurance companies.

Policies with all the coverages can be obtained from brokers in your home town or from an auto-insurance agent in any border state. Some agencies specialize in Mexican auto insurance and maintain offices at border towns.

Most Mexican auto insurance is sold to tourists on a daily basis for the number of days a tourist expects to be in Mexico. Refunds are available for unused days.

Another important item to consider before traveling into Mexico is proof of your U.S. citizenship (such as birth certificate, voter registration or passport).

IMS Lends Support To Con-Con

The 10,500-member Illinois State Medical Society today proclaimed its endorsement of an Illinois Constitutional Convention (con-con) to be voted on in November.

"The medical profession regards con-con as an essential mechanism for health progress in Illinois," ISMS President Dr. Philip G. Thomsen, Dolton, declared. "Specifically, it would provide an open forum in which medicine could discuss its views with other groups and reach agreement on constitutional changes needed to meet today's health care problems."

Dr. Thomsen's statement reflects an official recommendation by the ISMS House of Delegates to support the Illinois Constitutional Convention.

In issuing its endorsement, ISMS joins such widely-known supporters as: The Illinois Agricultural Association; Illinois Association of School Administrators; Illinois Education Association; Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers (PTA); Illinois Municipal League; and the Taxpayers Association of Illinois.

The medical group is also a member of the Illinois Committee for Con-Con.

Whether or not a constitutional convention will be held next year will be determined by a popular vote Nov. 5, which must pass by a two-thirds majority.

In a direct appeal to Illinois physicians, Dr. Thomsen said: "As persons of influence in your communities, you are heartily

Bohn Wins Big Race At Wilmot

Bill Bohn, a modified stock car driver nicknamed the Bullet, was just that as he shot into the lead on the 23rd lap of the 50 lap July Championship race at the Kenosha County Speedway and went on to his first win there of the 1968 season.

After the race Bohn admitted that toward the end he was nearly driving blind because his goggles had steamed up and he was so busy controlling his car that he couldn't take the time to pull the goggles down. On the last five laps Roger Otto pulled along side of Bohn several times but couldn't complete the pass for the lead.

It was the kind of racing night that Bohn will never forget and in a post race interview he acknowledged that the race win, preceded by a surprise driver interview following time trials, and the large support of his fans with banners and cakes, was a thrill that he would never forget.

The 50 laps was run without a restart. Bohn started in the 10th spot with Roger Otto in the 12th starting position. Whitey Harris, the current point leader, was third fastest in time trials and finished third. Iles was fourth and then Don Sorce. Jim Sullivan was the first car out of the race when his fuel injection belt broke on the 9th lap. Tom Anderson, running second, was the next car out after hitting the inside rail on the 11th lap. This cut a tire and broke a wheel on his car and he parked on the back straightaway. The next car in trouble was Claude Potter who was up to 8th place when he spun all the way around and continued to finish 12th.

Ten lap heat races were won by Ken Monroe, Ray Dobbs, Tom Anderson and Mouse Wade. The semi-feature race was won by Paul Cammeron ahead of Monroe, Chuck Acheson and Jim Olette.

Two cars did roll over in the late model heat races. Bill Badler and John Davis each rolled in separate events. Tim Seyl won the late model feature race and continued to protect his sponsors' bonus money offered to any driver to win a feature after starting behind Seyl. Late model heats were won by Ken Zeisse, Brian Boynton and Richard Nelson.

The August 3 race date on Saturday night signals the start of the last month of racing at Wilmot for this season. Lap prize awards are being collected for the semi-feature race of 30 laps and the feature race for 50 laps on the final night of racing, Saturday, Aug. 31.

Babe Ruth League Still Going Strong

The Boosters still on a winning streak, won their sixth game in a row on Monday night, beating Dairy Queen 7-5 behind the pitching of Dale Dvorak. This gives Dvorak a 3-0 record. Bud Newton was on the mound for the losers. Dvorak gave up 4 hits and Newton 9. Dvorak and Bentel collected 2 hits apiece and Bill Toman hit a double. Reed Ano hit a double for the losers.

On Wednesday, July 24 the Medics came up with a 14-0 win over the Dairy Queen. Gary Inman was credited with the shut-out, giving him a 4-1 record. He gave up only 2 hits. Turzy was leading batter with 2 doubles in this game and 3 runs batted in.

Chip Gross of the Medics came up with a 3 hitter against the Advertisers only to lose 9-3. Errors on the part of the Medics dumped the game, giving Gross a 2-2 record. Ron Pogose giving up 6 hits to the Medics was the winning pitcher. Ron Turzy again was top hitter for the Medics getting 2 hits. This game was played on the 25th.

Ricky Weiss pitched the Boosters to another win when they beat the Advertisers on Friday. Knutsen and Wirth were on the mound for the Advertisers with Knutsen taking the loss. This game was called in the 5th inning on the 10 run rule with a score of 35-3. Weiss allowed only 2 hits both 2 baggers, 1 by Jim Gaa and 1 by Ron Pogose. The Boosters had a hitting streak in the 4th inning. Dvorak hit 2 doubles and Tim Misure and Leo Luflos, 1 each. Bill Toman had 2 hits and singles were hit by Weiss, Miskinis, Wozniak, and Bentel. The team batting average for the Boosters at this time is .283.

The tables were turned on Saturday, July 27th with the Medics beating the Advertisers 16-9 in their second meeting of the week. Dan Sterbenz was credited with the win, with Schaeffer coming in as relief pitcher. Stahl pitched for the Advertisers. This

25,000 Fish Die In Eagle Lake

Eagle Lake, northwest of Antioch, experienced one of the worst fish kills the area has ever experienced recently. About 25,000 fish died in the 509 acre lake just northwest of Kansasville.

The cause of death is not yet known, but investigation is being made.

In Wednesday evening, July 17, a few dead fish began to float to the surface. By Thursday afternoon, thousands of dead fish were blowing to shore by the wind.

IRS Explains $100 Tax Deposit Rule

Employers who will owe more than $100 when they file their second quarter returns, due July 31, for withheld income and Social Security taxes should pay through the Federal Tax Deposit system rather than to the District Office, according to E. C. Coyle, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue Service.

Previously, Mr. Coyle explained, the undeposited taxes due at filing time were paid to the IRS District Office with the return. Under the new rule, the payments are to be made through the Federal Tax Deposit System, but the return is still to be filed with the District Office.

Through the Federal Tax Deposit system, the employer sends his payment to an authorized commercial bank that processes his payment through a Federal Reserve bank. The Federal Reserve bank then notifies the IRS of the employer's payment.

The new rule means that practically all payments of income and Social Security taxes withheld from employee wages will be made through the Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) system.

The deposit system provides a more accurate and economical means to credit tax deposits to the businessman's account. In addition, it eliminates the need for businessmen to include deposit receipts when they file their returns, Mr. Coyle added.

Additional FTD forms used in making deposits are available from the Midwest Regional Service Center, Kansas City, Missouri, if needed. According to Mr. Coyle, employers have been supplied with extra FTD forms for the second quarter.

DRIVING FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

by Paul Powell
Secretary of State

Such a simple thing as a scarf flying in front of your face can cause an accident. Seems incredible, but it's true.

A loose shoe sole or heel may catch on the accelerator, brake pedal, or floor mat. Loose-fitting glasses may slip down or fall off, causing loss of driving attention.

Items that need repair and improper driving apparel often are the distractions that cause accidents.

A dangling bracelet or loose-fitting suit or coat cuff can catch on the gear shift, or turn signal or even on the horn ring, thus causing the hesitation in a driving decision that may cost a life.

Many sun glasses create distortion that restricts driving vision.

In a convertible with the top down, a loose scarf or flying paper can blow across the driver's face and cause momentary blindness. Long hair should be secured by a head scarf, tightly fastened, or by some other means.

Little things, but at some time or other, all have been the contributing cause of loss of life, personal injury and property damage.

Film Making Glass Offered For Deaf

A class in basic filmmaking for deaf and hard of hearing adults will be offered this fall at the Hull House Uptown Center, 4520 Beacon St., in cooperation with the Institute for Exceptional Children and Adults of DePaul University.

David McKendall, director of the Film Center at Hull House, will direct the 20-week class, which will include instruction in filming, editing, lighting and the many other phases of film making.

Boat Show To Feature Coho Salmon

The coho salmon, hailed as an unparalleled boon to Midwest fishing and boating, will have a starring role in the Chicago National Boat, Travel and Outdoors Show next March 21-30 in the International Amphitheatre.

And the grooming for stardom has started.

As a first step, the show staff has started putting together a series of sessions on coho boat-fishing.

A broad program of activities and promotion will be built around the Pacific transplant, according to the Boating Industry Association, owner of the show.

The coho was introduced to Midwestern waters in 1966 by the Michigan Department of Conservation under the direction of Dr. Howard A. Tanner, now with Michigan State University. On a diet of an overabundance of alewives, and with no natural predators, the salt water fish thrived spectacularly in fresh water, and catches in the 20-pound category have been recorded.

Dr. Tanner estimates about 50,000 cohos were caught in 1967. "But that was only a beginning," he said in a recent address. "The coho harvest wasn't intended to start in 1967. This was just an incidental phase. We're looking forward toward the next couple of years when upwards of five million will be caught."

Prior to the advent of the coho, the 90,000 square miles of fresh water in the Great Lakes was sometimes referred to as a "liquid desert" so far as fishing was concerned and a "recreational wasteland" full of productive nothing.

Now a dynamic fishermen's paradise is developing for the 50 million people who live within 100 miles of the Great Lakes.

Anzinger Gets Win Sat. Nite, Bozeman Wins Feature Sun.

Jim Cossman of Waukegan, out-drove and out-lasted a star-studded field of cars to fatten his point lead and purse in winning the 50 lap feature race at Waukegan Speedway Saturday night, July 27.

Second place went to Mel Dorland of DeKalb and Al Hagerty of Libertyville came in third.

Bob Anzinger of Antioch won the 6 lap Trophy Dash with time of 1.59.8.

Mike Wolf of Lake Villa placed first in the second 10 lap late model heat race and Bob Anzinger came in second in the third heat race.

Jack Ester came in second in the fourth heat race behind Joe Nevitt.

In the 12 lap hobby stock feature Bud Herman came in first, Jim Couch second and Tom Rause third.

BOZEMAN GETS FIRST WIN

Jim Bozeman of Waukegan won a race on his home town track Sunday night, July 28. It was not only his first win of any kind all year long but it was the first feature race he has ever won. Jim led every lap of the race and beat the best efforts of Tom Anderson and Bill Bohn for the final 15 laps to take away his first time honors.

As the checkered flag came out, all three cars were within one car length. Anderson finished second and then Bill Bohn. Eddie Loomis who had been third earlier in the race finished fourth.

Heat races were won by Darv Nissen, Ray Dobbs, Paul Cammeron and Tom Anderson. Wade won the trophy dash.

Ad Schill looked like a sure winner on the 13th lap of the 15 lap semi feature event but then spun in the 4th turn trying to stay ahead of Roger Iles. Iles was too close to avoid the sideways car and was hung up long enough that he dropped from 2nd to 6th at the end of the race. Paul Cameron of Round Lake missed the accident and took the lead and the win. He was chased hard across the finish line by Ken Monroe.

The Hobby stock car events were close, too, with Jim Couch of Grayslake getting the feature race win. Flagman, Frank Pinter had to run from a rolling car that stopped on its side just in front of him and then run around the car to give the checkered flag to the winner. John Walters and Jim Rasmusen won the hobby stock car heats.
